Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, February 18, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Here, we are infusing love – this energy that is so mysterious to humans and which, by divine grace, very often allows us significant accomplishments. The Masters of the past have proceeded in the same way; these principles are perpetuated according to the higher will. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être, not necessarily in line with human plans and intentions? Divine purposes are beyond human understanding – everything is elusive to common mortals. Most of the time, it is better not to try to understand, and to move forward against all odds in a state of surrender, as we advise our brothers and sisters who are determined to progress according to their wishes. Nothing is simple – ease is not of this world; the Earth is a place of redemption where nothing is acquired without effort. Many hopes are dashed, but some can also come true, meeting expectations that had been abandoned.

You may think this is not of much help; the principle of life on Earth is not simple – turbulence of all kinds constantly disrupts every life. This world is not about to change with regard to this evolutionary principle; the planet, too, is subjected to numerous disturbances. The same energies operate at all levels, from the most expansive to the most minute. Each planet is an element of the Great Whole, of the entire creation, and still holds many discoveries for humankind. Humans believe they know everything, but they know so little, being deluded at every instant by this world of illusion. One day, they will advance in true knowledge, and their horizon will brighten. It takes a long time to accomplish what is to be. That is how it is.

Blessings.
