Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Wednesday, May 31, 2000 - 10:00 a.m.

our road is long and thorny. Appreciate each protrusion of the ground; it is a step leading you towards light.

"Is this not what you asked me, a long time ago? 'Make my heart similar to yours', you said!

"Did you weigh the risks you then took? Your faith in me is touching.

"I believe you will not be disappointed. I did not and will not make you vain promises, as you say. You are shaping your own destiny with our assistance. The aspiration of your soul must be met.

"One should never rest on one's laurels. The way to the Ultimate is long and endless, since the end and the beginning are abstract concepts. Remain in this state of emptiness of heart offered to the divine Providence, without trying to understand the how and why of divine action.

"Your mind is lost continuously in human equations that are not compatible with 'reality' the way we see it.

"You should be in the greatest simplicity of heart, divested of any intellectualism in which most abhyasis lock themselves up, as they want to explain everything and preach to others, whereas they themselves have to unlearn and to develop themselves according to our criteria that escape them completely.

"Be in the peace of the heart."
