Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 15, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Seeing only the beautiful in each one, in oneself and around oneself, protecting oneself and rising above the ugliness of life, ennobles and strengthens the human being. Whatever the beliefs, they are diverse in this world, everything comes back to this necessity: to speak the truth. Skirting it in certain circumstances is an unfortunate ploy and has always been far too common on this Earth.

Human beings have grown up in a positive manner; for a certain number of them, it would be time for light to be shed on some essential points. Ignorance does not help one grow, and it would be good if it were remedied. How can we help our brothers and sisters in the daily struggle that is life? We support them in the best possible way through transmission at all levels, including with these daily messages. Over time, these writings will continue to benefit humans in search of a reality, that of the soul's elevation as it finds its way within the context of a spiritual process. Devoting time to this process is very judicious; life is short and this achievement is the most precious asset, determining the continuation of this very long journey through which the being is ennobled.

How many lives are needed to reach the goal! Nothing is easy, but everything is conquered when the heart becomes a person's true guide. Connected to the higher powers, such a one holds the key, that which opens the 'true' door to this sacred space. It is then that hope appears on the horizon, hope for an elsewhere where peace can truly reign by glorifying the love we advocate here.

Blessings.
