Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, June 7, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

An incarnate Master has great capacities, being equipped with a more direct power of action; there lies the strength of our Mission in current times, where such power is still needed. The future will be organised differently, and the transmission of divine energy will be accomplished in another way – directly, somehow. So will it be, inevitably, and that very distant future will bring about elements that human beings of today would find utterly amazing.

Our path is creating a choice place for itself, and its action for the good of humanity will be great. This prospect is very encouraging, and we are preparing it as best we can. May our abhyasis have a glimpse of it in their own way and give it positive support. A day will come when life will change on this planet. This is not for tomorrow, but why not consider it in a very positive manner? We are already working towards it as best we can. Past centuries brought about that which exists now, and this present action is positive in the sense that the best can be envisioned for humans. More refined beings will be reincarnated here below. They will have already travelled a true spiritual path, and that status will lead them to play a decisive role for the general good. Everything is counted and so very precious; one's current approach contributes to human evolution. Isn't this prospect delightful?

May all be motivated for their own good and that of our entire Mission, where human evolution will hold a choice place. So it is, and so is it wished by the divine powers.
