Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, July 29, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Suffering on Earth manifests in more than one way; no one can escape it. Sooner or later it catches up with human beings, and they must accept it.

This is precisely what is important. How to handle trials? Rebelling cannot help in any way. It is wiser to be accepting, but it is not always easy to achieve. Each test, in its own way, addresses a problem – what is it exactly? The laws of karma are not explicit; an incarnation keeps its mystery in its most decisive aspects. Surrendering to the Divine, to the Master, who in his incarnate being manifests the Divine here below, helps put things into perspective. Wisdom develops with time, and its effects are felt with the passing days, each one offering an opportunity to grow. Positive experiences continue to be very precious assets. They build the personality under the guidance of each person's spiritual entity, according to his or her development and the guidelines the entity can provide in broad outline. This whole process remains unknown to most humans. These laws are very complex; only the great sages, having come a long way in this field, are able to understand the gist of it.

Everyone is advancing in their own manner. Our abhyasis are offered an opportunity; they benefit from it according to a personal feeling, a very strong aspiration to win this sacred space, which in the case of many of our brothers and sisters is a real success; for this we are so very happy. A special vibration settles into the motivated aspirant, and their circle benefits from it. Blessed are our faithful abhyasis. They are advancing with great strides, they can be sure of it. So it is.
