Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, September 2, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

In a distant future, these writings will remain a reference. They are making their way into hearts, and this is just the beginning. Time gives importance to things, to events, sometimes where least expected. The path of Sahaj Marg will be appreciated more and more.

After many transformations in this world, human beings will return to a more 'normal' life, one more centred on what is important and not focused, as it is today, on materiality – excessive in every respect and destabilising for young beings who need serious reference points for building themselves. The advancement of Sahaj Marg in people's hearts delights us; the work of all of us here is not in vain. It does take time on Earth to reach the goal. We remain confident when we see that more and more young people have at heart this exceptional quest for the Divine. These beautiful souls come back with a precise purpose, as do all our abhyasis, but some do so with an uncommon determination.

The strong commitment of all these beings who are following us is a true blessing for this entire Mission as it works towards the new era. In its 'apparent' simplicity, the Mission prepares hearts, strengthens them in the face of adversity and for what this future world will be, relieved on all levels of the many nuisances that destabilise humans on this unusual journey – one that will meet the divine plans in their full scope and in the power the Mission will deploy for the transformation of this world, when the time comes. May love illuminate the hearts of all our brothers and sisters.
