Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, September 7, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

We like these contacts. These daily messages connect us to your hearts. All who read them profit from this special energy, palpable to a large number receiving them in the appropriate way, with the openness of heart necessary for our work.

There lies the mystery of life. Beyond appearances there are laws, divine principles still eluding today's humanity. One day, a great step will be taken, and human beings will finally reach another level of consciousness. Blessed are those who are working in this direction and devoting a little time each day to their spiritual elevation. They are conditioning themselves in this perspective, that of the great changes that will take place here below, for a new humanity, regenerated and strengthened in the face of adversity. This world is going adrift. So-called progress does not lead human beings where they ought to be; materiality increasingly hides what is so important to them. Are human beings any happier? It does not seem so. Often confused, they engage in pursuits unsuitable for their personal evolution.

Blessed are those who cultivate within themselves this profound aspiration for the Divine. They save valuable time and foster a personal evolution that will benefit their future life beyond what they can imagine.

May divine love halo the hearts of all our brothers and sisters, involved in this beautiful path of progress in this domain, that of the victorious spirit.

Special blessings to all.
