Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, September 20, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

See only the beautiful, the good in everything, what manages to emerge from all these human turbulences and which remains, in spite of everything, positive and constructive for our Mission. What is good, and has always been so, defies time. Thus, these messages will remain a valuable asset for Sahaj Marg. Spread throughout the world, they will leave their mark, whether one wants it or not.

The Mission will evolve in the future according to changes inherent in the world of matter, which is not inert; in its own manner, it evolves very slowly but according to set plans bringing about the coming changes. Much time will pass before these important changes occur. Let our abhyasis be reassured: life on this planet, on all levels, is in a perpetual state of mutation. Imperceptibly, life in its primary essence modifies itself according to constants still escaping the attention of scientists. Such are the divine laws. Human beings, despite all their current skills, remain very small before such laws.

The line of Sahaj Marg is simple in its principle; it produces the best results, precisely due to this approachability. Grand, elaborate speeches have no place in this system where simplicity reigns. The 'way of the heart' will remain what it is today – simple in its approach, yet capable of generating benefits for the aspirant, without undue constraints. The results are there, you can believe us. You will not be disappointed in this blessed commitment. To you all, faith and courage. Blessings.
