Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, December 29, 2014 – 8:00 a.m.

Our dear and great son is once more perfectly adapted to the 'world of the Spirit'. Here he finds his place again and the retrospective of his previous lives. They are numerous, as is the case for all of us, allowing him to take stock of this long cycle of reincarnations, each one making a contribution to the sacred edifice of the Divine. Many duties await him, but first and foremost he will remain connected to this beautiful and great Sahaj Marg Mission – the hallmark of a new time – whose role in this world will not cease to assert itself in the future.

We expect from all our persons in charge, from all our brothers and sisters, a deep and sincere commitment to fully contribute to this planned expansion, so important to humanity whose current distress at many levels is saddening. Here, everything is done towards the good, so that humanity may evolve and truly elevate itself in order to reach the best. Everything is so slow here below; we cannot change this pace, but motivating our brothers and sisters should be possible. We have been following them for such a long time; for some great servants of the Sahaj Marg Mission, we express our gratitude, and it is great – their lives will not have been pointless, far from it. One day they will be able to assess the effects those lives have had. All of them are working for the love of us, a love we return a hundredfold. May they forge ahead and be fully committed to this extraordinary journey, one they will not regret; here nothing is in vain or illusory. May all our brothers and sisters realise it and fulfil our expectations as best they can.

The best to you all, under our ceaseless blessings.

Babuji
