Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, February 25, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This long journey of messages has generated in hearts certain effects whose importance you cannot imagine. The testimonies that reach you still surprise you, there are so many of them. The effects produced will go on increasing, since they will be perceived by beings who are becoming more and more refined. We are not working in vain, Sahaj Marg is growing. It touches beings by its simplicity of approach, but also and especially by the results that come with time. Changes will occur on Earth, creating different vibrations that will lead humans to a greater receptivity of a redeeming energy. Still more time will it take to arrive at an obvious evolution revealing the Divine in its numerous manifestations still unknown to most human beings.

Everything is so slow here below in the sense of this redemptive transformation. To move in that direction, to work as much as possible to promote this conquest of the Spirit, is a major asset for the beings who devote themselves to it. Doing one's best on a daily basis – in one's personal life, in one's practice, as far as possible – is a major move, one that is decisive for the subsequent steps on a spiritual path appropriate to the real aspirations of each one. Nothing can be forced, a call is always heard. Even if the answer is discreet, it is there, and it operates in its own manner for the good of a heart in need. Apart from that, all is futile – a wise person reaches this conclusion and acts accordingly. Everything is counted, nothing is lost. Is that not the most important thing!

To all, faith and perseverance in action, under our blessings.
