Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 28, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Life and death are merely states or stages in this long journey of life, with all its manifestations. From one incarnation to another experiences are lived, and they affirm, or not, the divine plans. Following a spiritual path, refined in its effects, enables one to better grasp all these subtleties which are beyond the ordinary person. Creation in its various states is incomprehensible to humans. They do their best to adapt to its demands, but those requirements are far beyond human approach. The most learned persons are quite small before that grandeur which is completely beyond them. This is not an admission of failure, but just a reality to which they must adapt with humility, in an effort to understand.

Even the smallest of creatures, within the framework of its own life, can think itself to be all-powerful, but such is not the case. Each one is in its place and preserves life in its very numerous manifestations. As for human beings, they benefit from spiritual guidance when called to evolve in that direction. Sometimes, after a few experiences, they manage to find their way – there lies the purpose of an incarnation. Some incarnations are often needed for them to get an inkling of the path to follow for the blossoming of their soul. We see such beautiful souls in Sahaj Marg, thirsting for the Divine and determined to move towards the goal. This fact makes us happy and more motivated than ever to help our brothers and sisters in this sublime quest for the Divine.

Blessings to all.
