Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 16, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This long journey of messages has been fruitful. Many hearts nourish themselves on them and manage to capture the subtle energy they release. They will increasingly become an important reference point in our Mission. Our abhyasis are progressing; many souls are rising and thus strengthening the egregore of this Mission, in keeping with a planned elevation that is satisfactory in every respect. Human failings cannot be completely hidden. Ironing out dissentions remains the challenge; perfection does not yet exist on Earth, nor is it for tomorrow. To challenge decisions made at the highest level is not a sign of wisdom. May all one day succeed in modifying egotistical reactions that are harmful for this entire path of the heart and particularly for themselves.

Sahaj Marg is charting a luminous path at the highest level, thus connecting many souls aspiring to follow a way that is apparently simple at the human level but highly effective in its results that reach beyond the material realm where many beings are in need. This world is sinking into an unusual negativity that is reaching its limit; it would be time to react before it is too late. Following a spiritual path with faith and determination protects from negative aspects generated in the world of matter. The sovereign Spirit, as evoked here, protects from many ills. May all unite and strengthen themselves in following this unparalleled path.

Special blessings.
