Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 25, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Relax, and forget human turbulences; they are inevitable in this world. Recover this space of serenity where your heart is fully tuned to ours. Here the best is developed. We inspire in you these lines which you receive with fervour. This fervour does not weaken; it shows up in you from life to life in divine service. It is what characterises you, even if it is well hidden from the eyes of humans. Do not be embarrassed – why wouldn't we express ourselves this way! You hold a special place in this Mission, connected to our hearts and that of the incarnate Master. You convey our words with rigor and much love, and this fosters such a situation, one that is quite special it must be said. Why wouldn't we dwell a few moments on this aspect of things; you live isolated from the outside world to better receive us. These writings are not trivial, time will lend them great importance. They are a precious asset for our Mission. Our dear Kamlesh appreciates them, as did the great Parthasarathi – how could it be otherwise.

Sahaj Marg is spreading throughout the world and these messages contribute to this. They carry our energies, and these win over hearts as is fitting for the welfare of one and all. This teaching corresponds to the current era and prepares a future more open to some realities of life at this level. It would be time for minds to open up and be fed by truth, in order to progress more rapidly towards the higher reality.

Blessings to all.
