Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, April 5, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

The number of these messages is impressive, in fact unprecedented in history. This is to be stressed here; only time will give this matter its rightful place. The Hierarchy of Masters is very attentive to the early steps of our dear Kamlesh, they are very promising. He has entered into his role with a certain ease and will continue his work brilliantly. We expect a lot from him, and he will respond accordingly.

The Mission is at a turning point in its history. It will gradually adapt to the circumstances of the moment and to the growing number of abhyasis. The Mission of the future will have to advance at its own pace while taking into account the general evolution. Big changes will occur in this world, which must in no way alter the very essence of Sahaj Marg, even though it is appropriate to adapt some of its essential rules to the present by judiciously modifying them.

There is still so much to do to bring the human being to a more correct perception of phenomena. A collective awareness will enable the opening of new perspectives and a true advancement towards knowledge – one that still keeps its secrets so well. Human evolution will allow for a real advancement at all levels. So many misconceptions and distortions of the facts have maintained an ignorance here below that should be overcome. May our action very modestly contribute to this – that is our wish.

To all, we wish the best in moving forward according to their personal aspirations. We are seeing to it.
