Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 6, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

This journey of messages is long and effective in its impacts on hearts. We have said this often enough, and Parthasarathi also emphasised it: this fact is unprecedented. The path of Sahaj Marg is rich in numerous benefits. Its action over time will be substantial and very important in the future when so many changes will occur in this world. Our teaching will remain a reference, a benefit for hearts in need. There is no lack of them; many beings are searching and do not find their way, the one that could answer their call. Blessed are those who have found it and who avail of its gifts. The aspirant does not necessarily realise the importance of such an approach and what it can offer. A step taken marks this path, that of evolution, the most important there is since it leads to the supreme goal – connection with the Divine.

What remains of a lifetime, except for what can lead the being to its highest destiny! Everything passes; many events get lost in time without leaving as much as a memory or trace. Progressing, advancing towards the goal, is not futile; finding the Masters again beyond an incarnation is a very precious benefit. All these Great Beings of the past unite in their action to support the current Master, who is caught in the motion of this material life and must take on his heavy task. He is advancing, immersing himself in the greatness of his role, and his action will be exemplary. We are happy for that. This Mission is dear to us all, including to the fervent abhyasis who have rejoined us and who are pursuing their path here.

To all, the best possible.
