Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, May 22, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Your sufferings, hidden from the eyes of others, are all the more valuable; they refine within you this connection which links you to our hearts. Your heart is offered to us with happiness, and that contributes to this exceptional work for the good of a great many abhyasis. The Sahaj Marg Mission has reached a new milestone; it will continue to grow and win over hearts in the most inviting way possible, since it is destined to help those beings who thirst for the Divine. Many do not realize it, until the opportunity presents itself to them to take this step; we are happy for this. New rules must be established to meet the growing needs and facilitate the work of all those who are committed to this process.

Blessed are the beings who start on this path of the heart. They do not do so in vain; thus they save valuable time and will not regret it. This way of the heart offers significant opportunities. It's up to each one to involve themselves in accordance with their wishes. Humanity is in distress for many reasons. This material world in no way responds to the real aspirations of the sensitive being, which is revealed in the subtle part of a human being, hidden from the eyes of all. May the best manifest itself for the general welfare, and facilitate a planned evolution that also seeks its own path in order to reach the very best.

Blessings to all our brother and sister abhyasis, and beyond.
