Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, July 9, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Everything in our way takes its proper place. The present spiritual Master, vested with our powers, is setting up new structures to meet the Mission's growing needs. We carry him in our own manner so that he does not feel too alone, faced with the scope of this Mission whose action is unfolding here below. He has the personal means to face up to things; he is a great being and will achieve great and beautiful things for this path of the heart – a way that is much more efficient than it may seem. Over the course of days, each person is advancing at his or her own pace, benefitting from a truly effective transmission. Sahaj Marg will influence these times, leaving a mark that is unimaginable today. Happy are the fervent abhyasis who are advancing favourably during this incarnation. This uncommon journey is preparing them for another dimension of life where their evolution will continue. Enough time has passed for us to be able judge this; time is precious, even more so on this Earth where the foundations of a true journey of the subtle being are being laid – for everyone, according to the call of the heart. This call is always fulfilled, you can be sure. Sensitive are we to the call of one and all, each one receiving in proportion to their request. Such are the laws that govern this particular aspect of life in all its expressions.

Engaging in a spiritual way where such a work is accomplished is a true blessing. May everyone be aware of this and never neglect what is essential. All are helped and blessed.
