Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, August 2, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Dear scribe, receive our presence in your heart, as it is fostered by the taking down of these messages. This love story is not ordinary; time will give it all its importance and its true significance. Sahaj Marg will bring more and more to hearts that are in need. Its action taking place on a vibrational level is still far too subtle to be perceived in its entirety. Many souls are calling. They are opening up to this uncommon transmission that fulfils them in all respects. Nothing is ever simple for anyone. One must move forward at any cost in this maze of materiality, with all the blockages it can create. To overcome these little by little is the challenge of an incarnation, each of which offers the opportunity to rise and move towards the goal so greatly desired by an ardent soul. It takes quite some time to understand it and not neglect what is essential on this journey. The way of Sahaj Marg helps considerably in this regard, through its very subtle action at the level of sensitive points – an action decisive in its effects.

The new era will open more and more prospects for a true spiritual advancement. Here, we are preparing it in our own manner; these writings contribute to it as well. The soul of the Mission, very elevated in its action, favours anything that can help, on all levels. The coming times will bring about changes; one must prepare for them and even anticipate them in order to strengthen the existing foundations. The best to all, for an ever stronger cohesion of the elements that constitute this Mission.

Blessings.
