Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 23, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

All these beautiful testimonies about the messages, coming from America or other parts of the world, are they not convincing! Their impact goes far beyond human perception. The work being done by these abhyasis is not insignificant. Each one perceives them in his or her own manner, and in this, going beyond a simple reading for a more personal deepening brings about good results. They are not the only ones to proceed in this manner, and it's good as such – we can only appreciate it. Present-day life is so superficial. Happy are those who go beyond the permanent illusion in which the world currently finds itself, to search within themselves and deepen the potential they hold with this exceptional spiritual approach. Real means are at their disposal to truly progress and advance in this way of the heart where nothing is trivial despite its appearance of great simplicity. Here, it is about the heart; is it not, in every respect, the essential element of life! To all, we wish the best and a progress that is proportionate to their aspirations.
