Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, October 7, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

May love conquer hearts. These messages provide for it; they are the emanation of the Masters of this outstanding Mission, which is emerging in times that are increasingly troubled and difficult to live through for a great many people. What would an incarnation be without such possibilities enabling human beings to find their bearings and, above all, to understand the necessity for advancing in the only possible direction for human evolution. How many lives, experiences and sufferings will it take to lead humanity to the stage of, if not perfection, at least a global behaviour acceptable for attaining a higher level of consciousness – one that is conducive to the expansion of the soul.

Let us work more than ever in this direction. One day, the divine goal will be attained – and that, by divine grace.
