My son aspires to a more frequent communication with us. Do you feel able to manage? Technical means required for this purpose seem operational. We will make some more targeted tests. Messages sent to him filled him with joy. It finally took a long time to set up the system; this is how things are in your world where nothing is easy.

"My dear daughter, you are going to have the opportunity to give your best. We know that all you wish is that: i.e. to serve us.

"It is my happiness to make my son happy. With these messages, that are yet mere words couched on paper, it is a way for us all here to show him concretely, how much we support him in his action and how much he is appreciated and beloved.

"His path, contrary to what you may think, is far from being easy. With this sort of correspondence, we have the means to apply some balm in the heart. May our hopes towards this goal materialize for the good of all."
