Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, December 26, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Every day is important. It gives rhythm to the movement of life, and to humans it gives what is necessary to build themselves – on the human level and in an even more subtle way, that is to say, spiritually. This is another dimension whose governing laws totally escape human understanding. Even the most refined do not possess all the information. In many circumstances, they approach certain special states without being able to really define what they conceal. Thus, the human being must carry on his or her journey and focus on personal advancement. This is wisdom itself. The record of a lifetime is decisive for a person's karma, which remains a mystery to each one; all these concepts are not easily understood by the common mortal. Assessing the impact of one's actions and the importance of one's thoughts is a sign of wisdom. Thought is an act – this is to be carefully considered by all. Following a spiritual path opens up new horizons. With time some of our brothers and sisters are ready to go further. The sacred space is within them, in that very specific point that characterises them, namely, the heart. Here lies the central axis of spirituality, the seat of the soul, of true beauty, that which facilitates the advancement of each person.

To all we wish a real advancement, motivated by a deep and sincere call offered to divinity, to the Masters of the Mission, and to the living Master working here below, who is carried by their inspiration and total support. The best is yet to come, namely, the realisation of this sacred quest in the making.

Strength and determination to all, under our blessings.
