Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, January 18, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

This long story of messages is a true asset for the Mission. We have repeated ourselves a great deal over these past years; that is necessary in such a case. It is not common for messages from another world to be given to this one, where our Mission is gradually growing – a growth that has been foreseen by a power that manages what is being done at this level for the good of a planned evolution, necessary in many respects. At the human level, it is not easy to evaluate the potential impact of such a process. Nevertheless, the benefits of spirituality are gradually spreading in order to one day achieve a global transformation of humanity. These comments seem very unreal today, and yet the world of the future will differ completely from what it is today.

Since its beginning, so many changes and great upheavals have occurred in order to reach the current stage, and this prepares an unprecedented transformation, you can be sure. Through our action, we will continue to contribute to it in our own manner, for the general good of human beings; spiritual evolution will be decisive in this. In what concerns us, solid foundations have been laid and will be widely confirmed in the future, with our support and blessings.
