Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, March 22, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Each one receives according to his or her call – you know it, yours is strong, and it has always been so. A great many hearts are uniting in our Mission, forming a powerful and redeeming energy. We can measure its growing effects, which add to the benefits of this practice. Everything may seem insignificant, and yet in such an approach nothing is vain. Commitment and sincerity further reinforce this faith that is so useful for the aspirant, who is carried through this evolutionary process. All of our aspirants follow a line of conduct, of action on a daily basis, providing room for this approach amidst all of their worldly obligations. Wisdom guides the steps of each one, and all our brothers and sisters are attended to and helped as needed. What is not obvious today will become so tomorrow, by force of circumstances. Each person must comply with his or her destiny, even if an approach such as ours can substantially change some aspects of it.

We see beautiful souls growing, being refined in their conception of the Divine, and leaving aside intentions and desires that are unsuitable for this spiritual path – one that is so decisive in bringing to perfection a rapidly expanding evolution. The Masters of Sahaj Marg shape this Mission. Each one of them is a strong link within it, and each one consolidates this sacred edifice that will leave its mark on this era for a very long time. Each of the ashrams is an important element, holding a vibratory force that facilitates what is accomplished there over time. Sahaj Marg is growing and becoming established accordingly, as are our abhyasis, carried by our constant attention.

Blessings to all.
