Wednesday, March 23, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

A music resonates in your heart; it calls for this contact from which comes one of these numerous messages valued by many of our brothers and sisters. Thus are their hearts connected to ours, and we appreciate this magical chain capable of uniting so many beautiful souls thirsting for a simple method, yet one that can produce very good results, which they themselves cannot really imagine. The future will reveal even further the benefits of this method. Simple in appearance, it nevertheless leads to beautiful progress in this unparalleled ascent. Repetition is necessary; what would life be without this system of ceaseless repetitions capable of building the best, be it on the material or spiritual planes.

All the Great Beings, Masters of the past and present, go through phases that can be difficult. They engage in self-examination on many points, without really succeeding in elucidating all the mysteries of life, managing it as best they can without being able to resolve everything as they would so often wish.

Everyone does what they can; the commitment of the heart, the rectitude, the innermost desire to do well – these all constitute a strong asset. Many Great Beings of the past reproached themselves for not reaching a level of absolute perfection. That cannot be achieved; this world does not facilitate such perfection, but it effectively prepares the valiant hearts that are capable of achieving the best possible level here below. The most perfect masterpiece can yet have small areas of shadow that can enhance the whole work of art.

So it is; the best to all.
