Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 25, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

In you is the faith, the strength, the courage to overcome trials and surrender to the Divine, to the essential, this extraordinary love – a love that carries the soul, no matter what happens, to the original Splendour. Long is the path of life; it does not hold only good, but such are the laws – inescapable on this initiatory journey and decisive with respect to each one's Karma.

Each step has its importance, it leads towards the goal. After many trials, the horizon often clears unexpectedly. How many lessons are needed to bring human beings to where they need to be! Advancing and being strengthened leads to a purifying state in which the soul regains serenity.

Finding one's way here below is a grace, and receiving the blessings of an incarnate Master and a hierarchy possessing powers of divine essence is an indescribable boon. Saving time in this manner is important; there are so many stages to cross in order to overcome the limits of a negative material plane. The Sahaj Marg path neither promises marvels nor suggests images that can stir the seeker's dreams. On the contrary, it places the seeker face-to-face with a reality: the need to advance with the help of a simple but effective practice. Why would a human being not move towards the discovery of his or her own being, of this subtlety unknown to science since it is still so far from the material realm. They stand a world apart. Advancing in this discovery is a major benefit capable of determining the future of one and all in this unique ascent, blessed by the gods.

Blessings to all.
