Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, April 17, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

The fluctuating nature of the days sometimes diverts the abhyasi from his or her objective. It is not always easy, in this life that is troubled in many ways, to follow a strict line of conduct. The commitment of the heart is paramount here, in this journey that is essential for the elevation of the soul. The soul is waiting and complies with what is offered to it. Each one receives according to his or her call – this reality is well known and effective in its action. It is so good to let oneself be carried by the delights of the soul, in the deep and indescribable joy it can create in these unique moments of profound rapture.

Such an anticipation always leads to the desired results. This commitment is crucial for the abhyasi; thus does one progress towards the goal, according to one's wishes. Owing to its effectiveness, this simple method, strengthened by the personal commitment of each individual, has produced the Mission as it is today. We are following the effects it generates and we support its action. Its efficacy can only grow in people's hearts. As major seminars draw near, it is good to take stock; everyone does what they can, and we find no fault in that. Our beloved son Kamlesh is so very committed to this extraordinary challenge. He is our greatest asset in this endeavour, and he will lead this Mission very far; we will always give him the necessary means.

May he be especially blessed, along with the entire Sahaj Marg Mission.
