Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 4, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Life follows its course through all the actions that it generates; movement is its very principle. Our Mission is no exception either. Everything moves and evolves according to the need of the moment and the absorption of hearts in this unique spiral, attracting souls towards the light – a light which purifies, which deifies in a way, when the path is followed diligently with faith and love. Such love does not disappoint; it elevates the entire being towards its highest destiny.

The number of souls united in this egregore is impressive. It is growing in strength, in beauty too, since many souls are now reaching a very appreciable level.

All the united Masters are happy about this, you can be sure. The time following seminars brings on a period of assessment, and this one is again very satisfying. May the entire Mission continue to grow and become more beautiful at the subtlest level. We are working in this direction. This action is continuous and very active, you can be sure. Today's abhyasis also act for the future, and the Masters are grateful to them for that.

A spiritual mission of this magnitude is not created in vain here below. We can see with happiness all those who are being transformed and attracting divine grace. Can there be a nobler assessment than this! We have entrusted this beautiful Mission to our very dear and great son Kamlesh. He has begun a beautiful course that will leave a very special mark on this Mission, through his actions which are unprecedented in their creativity and magnitude. This makes us happy. We help him as best we can. He has our support and endless blessings.

Much love to all.
