Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 25, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Do not fear, this place will be preserved; such is our wish and it will be respected. Our dear, great Kamlesh will see to it. We know him well and for good reason we have appointed him as head of this Mission, which is so precious to us. He will reveal his talents more and more and will ensure that everything in the Sahaj Marg way is consolidated and clarified for an unprecedented expansion. We support him. Nothing in this world is ever simple, but what must be will be, you can be sure. The great edifices were not easily built, but the most significant ones are there, like everything concerning our Mission on this Earth – a Mission whose continuity will be assured, as wished by the higher powers; we can only give our very best so that everything takes its proper place in various locations where Sahaj Marg is established, and for a long time to come. 'Doesn't everything have its raison d'être' – these words may seem meaningless, and yet the very principle of life is based on this maxim. The Sahaj Marg way has its raison d'être: it offers seekers the elements that can satisfy their innermost aspirations to rise, to unite with the Divine.

This need is natural in a way; by definition, human beings are divine in nature, even though they often forget this and get lost in the meanders of life until they return to the main thing and become aware of this reality.

Sahaj Marg is the right way for this. It is all about simplicity, and its action is very productive. That is how it is, let us say. The best to all.
