Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, May 31, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Only spiritual advancement allows the subtle being to truly progress. Opening one's heart to transmission, as we practise it in our Mission, is a real benefit. Human beings do not realise just how precious time is; they so often neglect what could be an asset of great importance for them. The practice of Sahaj Marg refines the subtle bodies and facilitates a transmission that has a positive action upon them.

These words are not easily verified, and yet such is the reality. After all, is it not the most important aspect in this process?

We can see so much progress in committed abhyasis; they themselves cannot imagine such results. A life is short compared to eternity. Every step is decisive, and it is wise to facilitate each one.

The aura of Sahaj Marg is growing; the Mission, on the material plane, is growing stronger on its foundations, and its action on the spiritual plane currently represents a level never reached before. This progress will keep generating the best results. Aspiration for the Divine will unfold more and more in hearts; it will be appropriate to respond to it, and Sahaj Marg can do so. It will provide for it very well; an unprecedented progress will answer the calls of the present and those to come. A true transformation of humanity hinges on that; spirituality can provide so much to human beings. This fact does not always come to their consciousness but it is revealed when necessary for their evolution.

May all realise the benefits provided by this way of the heart and enjoy them fully, under our ceaseless blessings.
