Whispers from The Brighter World

Love – the love that connects us, that unites all abhyasis with the heart of the incarnate Master and, by extension, with the hearts of all of us here, the alliance of Masters, united and so attentive to each one of our abhyasis. This fact is not trivial; it is also the role of all of us to not neglect the Mission as a whole, in all its aspects. There are many of them. The expansion of the Mission creates a more powerful egregore, and on the material plane, where numerous elements need to be considered in minute detail.

Our dear Kamlesh is working on this. He invests himself totally and uses his full capacity to act for the best. He has the personality suited to the present times. He moves, he works and builds in his mind, he develops plans that will take shape in due course.

We inspire him every day, and his projects will be realised when expected. It is not easy for him to hold this very special role – being vigilant on the material plane, it is nonetheless this extraordinary spiritual action, not yet recognised for what it truly is. How to evaluate such work in human terms; the main thing is that it exists and bears fruit, from which everyone fully benefits over time. Spirituality is an aspect that is not to be neglected, it is more important than it seems. It is not to be relegated to second place, but rather brought to light in one's life, for the best possible results. Only this asset, acquired in an incarnation, remains – this is to be considered carefully.

Special blessings to all.
