Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 4, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Relax, and forget your sufferings in these blessed moments of intense communion. These words evoke within you a state of well-being, which favours these exchanges between our hearts. This delight of the soul is felt by our fervent abhyasis. In reading these pages, they feel all the love these messages distil. They yield benefits that cannot be truly assessed but are real. The path of Sahaj Marg was not created in vain; the Masters called for it with love and gratitude for the powers that guide us. The result is there, in this era of change and greater instability than ever. Many human beings are struggling to find their balance. They are disturbed by multiple troubles, most of which are not detectable by humans, and this is not easy to manage. The practice and the commitment of the heart are precious assets. They help to stabilise energies for the good of all. Blessings on this whole Mission, which we watch over with love.
