Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 6, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

In the heart of silence is peace; there, the aspiration to the Divine grows and over time succeeds in realising this action. Transformation of the entire being is the objective, and achieving it is the ultimate reward. This is not illusory; it does occur and can truly change a life when it is dedicated to this aim. Everyone possesses an inner potential, a history whose many resources are unknown even to the person concerned, and the mystery remains until the end. Surrender to the Divine, to the Master who represents it and works for the good of all beings who trust him, is the best option. In the long run, our way generates results whose significance none of you can imagine. This makes us truly happy and, over time, encourages us to go even further. To work for the good of all is commendable. All wish to enjoy the benefits offered here. Therefore, may the best be brought about, for all, under our blessings.
