Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, August 21, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Forget this world in these blessed moments of plenitude in which your soul is overjoyed. It awaits this moment, this space of peace and love which we offer to it. All these years of loyalty, of exactitude, in tuning in to us and giving the very best so that this unprecedented action can happen. The Sahaj Marg Mission distinguishes itself in more ways than one; many aspects will be revealed over time in accordance with the divine plans. Everything changes, constantly, and everything evolves without even appearing to do so; in their most subtle aspect, the laws of life are imperceptible to humans. Many mysteries remain unknown to them. Knowledge is progressing, science is advancing in its discoveries, but certain aspects essential to the movement of life, to the very essence of what life truly is, are still unknown to them. When the time for 'real' knowledge has come, humanity will have taken a giant step. We are preparing it in our own manner, everything will come at the right time. So it is.

Blessings to all.
