Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 23, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

On this special day for your heart, may joy reside therein and render this contact even more fruitful. Beautiful stories enrich a life at the human level; they are precious and remain in memory as pleasant respites.

So many struggles and trials come one after the other in the course of an Earthly existence. To see only the beautiful, the good, that which helps the human being to overcome the hazards of the material world, is oh so constructive.

Following a spiritual path lights the way, and it allows one to put into perspective that which, in the end, is nonessential in one's advancement towards this 'goal', so hoped for by the aspirant. Following the path of Sahaj Marg opens up perspectives. They allow seekers to put things in their proper place and focus on what is 'essential'. In this, they are helped and inspired when necessary. Everything has its raison d'être. May all our abhyasis be reassured, they are accompanied with all the love possible. Special blessings.
