Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 27, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Plunge into yourself, into this very special joy generated by this contact – one in which your soul goes into ecstasies, shall we say. The vibration in these writings can be felt; sensitive beings perceive it and are nourished by it every day, without fail. This long journey of messages has left its mark on more than one calling heart; we can see hearts progressing, being refined, and we are happy for that.

These messages will continue on their way for quite a long time and remain a very precious asset for this way of the heart. When our dear scribe has joined us, the celebration of the heart will await her, and she will be lovingly welcomed and thanked for this very precious asset consisting of these thousands of pages.

This was her mission; love manifests in more than one way – here, it reaches its climax.

May all our brothers and sisters make the most of this unique achievement. Special blessings to all.
