Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, August 16, 1998 – 10:30 a.m.

It is not rigor that makes you advance, it is love. This is your strength, your great strength. Never change. You know what I said about love. (My Master, page 80.) It is the engine of the world. When love truly prevails on the Earth, she will continue her planetary evolution. She too settles a kind of karma. Universal laws apply to all things.

The Medium: Have I transcribed your message well, Babuji?

Yes, you are doing well; collect yourself as much as possible today. You are my beloved daughter.
