Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, September 30, 2016 – 10:00 a.m

No life is simple, each one's Karma manifests inexorably. It creates situations, connections, that reappear from one life to the next to complete what already exists in the memories of time. Nothing is ever simple. The bad and the good coexist to form a whole, in accordance with the divine laws that prevail in the journey of the human being. A spiritual way like ours acts for the good. It helps clarify situations long complicated on this lengthy path of reincarnations, where we find ourselves for good reasons, though these are not always easy to manage.

The human being advances, doing his or her best in the face of trials – this is decisive. Overcoming them wisely is a very precious asset, and it is good to be aware of this reality. Everything is counted and liberating when human beings understand and adapt with wisdom to the realities of life. Sahaj Marg helps them as much as possible, the results demonstrate this sufficiently. May the best be for each and every one of our abhyasis.
