Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, October 17, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Delight in this powerful tide that carries you; a wave of love overcomes you in these blessed moments of contact with the Hierarchy of Masters, who are so attentive to this Mission and to its dear Kamlesh, Chosen by all of us for an action that is unprecedented in its magnitude. The modern means of communication make things easier and allow him to operate in a broader and very effective way, supporting an expansion that is unprecedented in its speed and effectiveness. 'What are we – a breath, a nothing, and nothing more.' This nothing is not insignificant; every particle of life is an integral part of a vast general movement, of which the divine power controls the least movement, the least action, which is totally beyond the level of human knowledge. So many aspects are to be considered, which cannot be considered in the current state of things. One day the divine goal will be attained through knowledge, that which emanates from the Divine by means of its power, unassessed by human beings. They are so small before it, even though they may believe they are powerful given the current progress that is not particularly aligned with spiritual evolution as we would wish.

One day, life will go in that direction for the greater good of humanity! So it is.
