Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 2, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages have an importance you cannot imagine; only time will accord them the attention that is their due and bring to light their true value. Our dear Kamlesh will contribute greatly to this. His vision of things is broad, and this asset will serve the Mission as a whole. In the future, the Mission will take on proportions inconceivable today. We are repeating this, but how can we do otherwise? The impact this Mission has on hearts will never cease growing.

The future will open minds to this aspect that is essential to life in its reality – a true spirituality capable of turning certain negative aspects into positive ones. That is not insignificant. The Sahaj Marg Mission has already made progress unimagined at the beginning. So began other beautiful spiritual paths now holding a reserved space here on Earth that is considerable. Ashrams are important; they are charged with a special energy undetectable by humans but real, you can be sure. May the greatest number engage in this way of the heart, whose effects produce the best in committed and fervent hearts. We support all our brothers and sisters and respond abundantly to their calls. So it is, may we say once again.

Blessings to all.
