Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, April 9, 2017 – 10:30 a.m.

My dear daughter, all these years of loyalty and total commitment of the heart are very commendable. Hasn't everything been said here? These writings will remain over time, they constitute a treasure for our Mission. Others will come afterwards, but they will not be of our making – this is to be considered once and for all. Time does its work. Our dear son Kamlesh manages this Mission brilliantly; he will know how to give it indispensable elements, in order to meet the demands of the times to come. His action will be decisive in many situations; he will always be supported and guided in the best way to act according to the needs of the moment. The Sahaj Marg Mission will continue its trajectory; changes will occur, necessary for a planned evolution. Everything is for the best. Happy are those who follow this way of the heart, it produces real benefits. To all, peace and serenity to move towards the essential, that which is aimed for here. Special blessings, carried by this uncommon love.
