Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, April 23, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Continuity and effort are two constructive assets that we cultivate for the best possible results. Our abhyasis conform to our wishes, to what we consider to be important, essential one could say, in such a spiritual investment.

This practice is very rich in effects; it confirms what was envisioned since the beginning of this Mission. Many changes will occur in this world; they will only emphasise the accuracy of our predictions for this way of the heart which is, in a certain manner, unique among its kind. These messages also have a significant role; the future will reveal many essential aspects of the whole of such a process.

These substantial changes will occur in the future and will allow the emergence of a truth, finally revealed to humans.

Special blessings to all.
