Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, May 16, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Having reached the end of the road, life takes on its full significance and defines itself differently. It does take time to understand all the subtleties of this journey. Every incarnation is an experience; they succeed one another, enriching this long path where the best can happen. How many incarnations are necessary before human beings are able to assess the path travelled, and especially its purpose, for their elevation!

Life takes on its full meaning when the time has come for the divine will to establish itself fully. It takes time and wisdom to reach the desired level.

Thus the best can be accomplished, according to the divine plans.
