Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, May 24, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Go beyond the heaviness of this world; see only the beautiful in each person and the serenity that settles in you in this uncommon contact of your heart with ours. These writings will remain over time a richness for this beautiful path of Sahaj Marg, so active in its effects. Other messages coming from different sources will seek to gain a foothold in our Mission, but this is neither right nor desirable, since they do not come from 'us'. This has already been said, and even repeated, but human beings are sometimes astonishing in their reactions.

We want the best for all: to reach the level of bliss, isn't that the most beautiful result! Sahaj Marg is working towards it – discreetly, one could say, but in a direct and lasting manner through this long journey towards the essential. It takes time for the human being to realise where the true meaning of life lies. To call the Divine within, and to give it full latitude to act appropriately, is wisdom itself.

To all, perseverance and wisdom, to achieve the best that can be. Special blessings to all.
