The hypothesis formulated by these authors is right. They were cosmonauts, and not gods, who came in ancient times and manifested themselves to Abraham, then to Moses, to help the Earthlings and make them advance; but progress happens slowly on Earth. Some extraterrestrial civilizations are developed to a point such as you cannot even imagine. Twenty thousand years ago and more, humans who saw such highly evolved beings could only think of them as gods.

In the coming century, they will return in great numbers to calm the fury of human beings, who are capable of blowing up the planet with means they control so badly. It will be necessary to calm things down and admit that a superior people will have to take the lead to restore, over time, peace on Earth. Then, harmony will prevail among humans and foster their spiritual evolution. They will finally understand that religions were lures they accepted, for want of anything better, as their evolution did not allow them to distinguish truth from falsehood.

Everything in its time. Great upheavals are necessary to make things move forward. There will be many tragedies. One will have to be strong to survive, but God will enlighten people of goodwill. The golden age will not come overnight. It is the law of evolution that deals rigorously on Earth as elsewhere. Don't worry, pursue your path as well as possible, in purity of heart: Such is the true wealth. What must be will be!

Pray, unite yourselves in love and brotherhood. Meditate on this well.
