Come and join us; rejuvenate yourself. We are happy to see you withstand the assaults on your body.

The Medium: Forgive me, Babuji, for still reacting to certain remarks.

We understand... Your health problems and your mediumship weaken you. You have to reconcile all of it. You are managing well; you are our preferred channel. Are you pleased with this? We wish you the best, even if it is not easy to put up with everything. But as I told you, our ways of measuring and our views are not at all yours. You will understand when you join us. Our worlds are completely different. You will have to discover other values, a really new world for you. We are preparing you as well as possible to make your transition easier and your adaptation faster. But you still have things to do here below, in this sad world that grieves us.

Continue to light the way for the souls who are ready and willing to listen to you. Words can be powerful if they are well used. You help a lot of people around you. Your radiance and your striking comments, in certain circumstances, are effective. It is true that humans need to be shaken up sometimes. Do as best you can, my child, with respect to all and especially to your problems. Don't be discouraged; we support you as much as we can. You know how much we love you and follow you in everything that concerns your life. Time on Earth is short; assume it as best you can. Thank A-M for the mail.

Blessings to both of you.

Babuji
