Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, January 17, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

It's good, my child; continue to make efforts. In wanting to better serve us, it is yourself that you serve. You know that everything is counted for each of us. It is true that we are better placed than he (the Master) to see what is taking place across the whole planet.

We are the bow; he is the arrow. By acting on the two planes, our action is more effective. We conceive, and we make him act. An incarnate Master is important in this respect. Could the Mission be what it is, and what it will become, without a higher authority directing it? We ourselves are inspired; it is in the order of things. At all levels, we are implementers. Wherever we are, it is enough to surrender, to listen to the Divine, and act as well as possible. Whether in an unnoticed work, in the shadows or in the light, all actions count and form a whole, effective and strong.

By practising assiduously, you all help; by being fraternal, you help; and by trusting your Master, he who trusts us, we form an effective and divine chain. We belong to a large-scale plan. Imagine an ant hill and what happens there; it is always union in the effort that yields the best results.

We are advancing towards a sublime goal, not only individually, but as a Mission in its entirety. It was not created by chance, but by a higher will. Each stage of humanity has had its 'envoys'. They act for the good of all, even if they are not understood. Each soul ready to hear them and to receive their teaching benefits from it. Be united in faith, in hope and in love. With all my blessings.
