Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, April 12, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Imagine what it takes to print the books of the Mission; you are getting a glimpse of it now.

Is it worth it? Do you believe we have preached in the wilderness? Then won't you find the courage to carry on?

Make the most of it while you have a good team.

These messages are, for the open minded, another approach of our teachings.

I appreciate what has been done; one must capture attention with an easy reading.

Try to process them in a simpler way.

Yes, I pay attention to these details, my daughter; so, won't you continue for me?

Time is short, get down to work with ardour; you will not feel the slight fatigue it causes you.

Do it for me, quite simply.

Babuji