Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, April 18, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

May joy be in your heart on this day. You cannot change anything in the outside world.

You have sufficient reason to keep within you some sunny spaces.

Many souls are seeking and many others will feel 'the call', a tremendous need to be in union with the Creator.

You all will enter a phase of turbulence on the material level; in turn, the spiritual need will be greater.

Prepare yourselves for these two aspects of life on Earth.

All is not lost when the soul is awake.

Whatever may happen, remain confident in your destiny.
