Thursday, August 3, 2000 - 9:00 a.m.

Don't feel worried for M. and J.; let time do its work. They are not wasting their time currently. This country, with the terrible misery in which part of the population is in, is intolerable to observe. They will surely draw some conclusions from that. They had to go through this experience to get an approximate idea of the situation. It is not simple; only time, there too, will be able to mitigate these differences. Men of goodwill have to negotiate intelligently to avoid a blood bath.

"Much diplomacy will be necessary. Anger is thundering rightly. Our brothers of this part of the world are forgotten and abandoned to their tragic fate, without any other option but revolt. There will always be dominating and dominated people, but in future times such a disproportion will have to be abolished. The evolution on the Earth takes place at its own pace. Mentalities are not easy to change. The karma of the Earth is being settled imperceptibly. You, our candidates, you should try to behave as wise men and set an example of true fraternity. Pray so that the yelling injustices resulting from the insatiable needs of the few are mitigated."

Babuji